Background

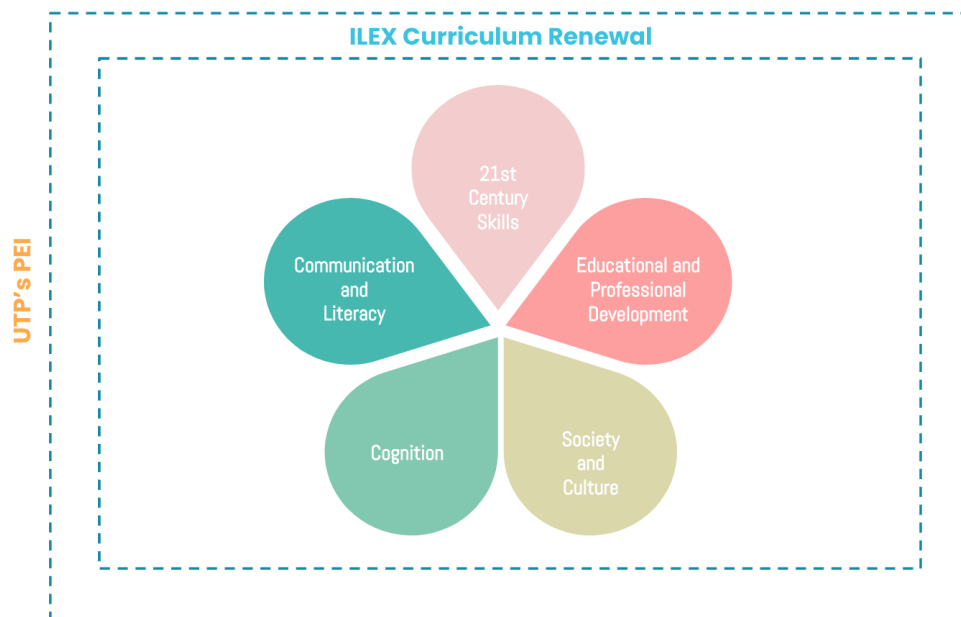

The Technological University of Pereira (UTP) has established in its Institutional Development Plan (PDI) a management pillar of wholesome education and academic excellence aimed at fulfilling national and international standards. This calls for all participating stakeholders to articulate and contribute collaboratively in providing a learning milieu that affords knowledge and skills to solve global issues from an inter- and transdisciplinary approach.

Given this institutional stance, all UTP's academic and administrative dependencies are expected to fulfill the aforementioned goal. Particularly, academic programs and offices should align so that the PDI's vision of high-quality education is met. In order to do that, an Institutional Education Project (PEI) has been constituted encompassing critical, dialogical and interactional pedagogies as well as flexible and integrated curricula that foster the development of global skills and sustainability goals.

Hence, UTP's Foreign Language Institute (ILEX) has put together an English language curriculum structure that reflects the principles contemplated in the PDI-PEI and those suggested by international organizations such as the UN, the OCDE, the European Council, Cambridge University, Oxford University, Pearson, among others, which have been adapted to satisfy the specific contextual needs of UTP's educational community.

Course 7: Thought, Expression, Peace

ILEX Course 7 has been designed so that English language learners achieve specific learning outcomes that integrate international standards of communicative competence and 21st Century global skills. Specifically, ILEX proposes five curriculum dimensions that should be framed within UTP's PDI-PEI, and consequently within its institutional language policies: 21st Century Skills, Communication and Literacy, Cognition, Society and Culture, and Educational and Professional Development (See Global Skills Guide).

The interrelation of these five dimensions in the process of English language teaching and learning should lead to the development of strategic competences (e.g., communicative, cognitive, socio-cultural, etc.) needed in today's personal, academic and professional contexts. Thus, a comprehensive English language learning curriculum framework has been established in eight guiding principles.

All ILEX courses should be guided so that teachers and learners:

- 1. Develop communicative competences that facilitate access to multimedia sources, intercultural exchange, critical empowerment and the active social participation oriented toward local and global change.
- 2. Understand and produce oral and written discourse that is coherent and relevant in global social and professional contexts.

3. Consolidate a repertoire of cognitive and metacognitive skills that promote meaningful communicative interactions in diverse contexts.
4. Participate in learning experiences oriented toward creative, collaborative and autonomous expression that fosters cognitive, emotional and social well-being.
5. Instill a sense of global citizenship by raising awareness on local realities, international affairs and one's own multilingual profile, experiences and cultural identities.
6. Promote an ethical and socially responsible outlook aligned to world sustainability goals.
7. Advance digital literacy competences through technologically mediated educational practices that involve interactions with different types of media and resources.
8. Partake in educational experiences that further accessibility, inclusiveness and academic success, taking into account particular psychosocial needs.

Global Learning Outcomes

According to the Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR), a B1+ learner can:

understand the main points of clear standard input on familiar matters regularly encountered in work, school, leisure, etc. Can deal with most situations likely to arise whilst traveling in an area where the language is spoken. Can produce simple connected text on topics which are familiar or of personal interest. Can describe experiences and events, dreams, hopes & ambitions and briefly give reasons and explanations for opinions and plans. (Council of Europe, 2001, Table 1, p. 24).

By the end of Course 7, learners are expected to:

- Identify and react to general and specific information in academic written and oral form so that further discussion or synthesis is developed
- Understand and provide descriptions and reasons in oral and written form so that viewpoints and perceptions are conveyed substantially
- Comprehend and follow the structures and parameters used when composing narrative or academic texts in oral and written form
- Write an academic essay around a relevant topic or issue where viewpoints are supported and logical progression of ideas is followed
- Present and discuss qualitative/quantitative information around current or hypothetical events regarding a topic of interest
- Improve written texts by means of content and structural discourse features analysis

Scope and sequence

Global 21st Century Skills: · Collaboration · Innovation · Creativity · Critical thinking and metacognition · Entrepreneurship · Critical and Global Citizenship · Digital literacies
Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs):
SDG11 Make cities and their institutions sustainable through scientific, literary and artistic expression	SDG16 Promote peace and justice for all and build effective, accountable and strong institutions at all levels	SDG17 Strengthen the means through which individuals and communities can achieve autonomy and self-efficacy
Some of the following or other similar thematic units can be developed in relation to this SDG: a. Social appropriation, awareness and dissemination of science b. Science diplomacy, research and policy-making c. Promoting science and technology in educational contexts d. Evidence-based decision-making at the individual, collective and political level e. Global initiatives and events promoting ongoing dialogue between science and society (e.g.: World Science Forum, Global Innovation Forum, Future Earth). f. Reading and literature for life g. Literary/Art expressions and movements in Latin America and the world h. Literature formats as means towards multimedia literacy (e.g.: print, audiobooks, novels, comics, etc.) i. Writing and creativity as human expression j. Poetic expression in self-fulfillment and mental health k. Visual arts for the strengthening of social life and institutions (e.g.: drawing, painting and sculpture) l. Photography and film-making in the portrayal of reality and imagination m. Performative arts and folk expressions: music, dance and theater n. Aesthetic values in connection to history and society	Some of the following or other similar thematic units can be developed in relation to this SDG: a. World conflicts and the impact of war b. Human rights as part of identity, justice and social welfare c. Cease of fire and peace-keeping missions for the construction of better societies d. Corruption, bribery, theft and tax evasion as systemic institutional illnesses e. Rule of law for sustainable livelihood f. Opportunities and empowerment as a means of social justice g. Land and property rights in the context of justice and economic development h. Peace treaties, social reparation and truth: a global and local perspective i. State organization and separation of powers for democracy j. Political systems and schools of thought (e.g.: democracy, dictatorships, liberalism, socialism, anarchism) k. Historical memory and awareness for justice l. Education for justice and peace: the role of youth m. A philosophical approach towards justice, peace and human rights n. Civic values and responsible citizenship in the public sphere	Some of the following or other similar thematic units can be developed in relation to this SDG: a. Appropriation of the SDG's from the individual and collective level b. Improving schooling systems and social settings for the achievement of SDG's c. The role of the public and private sector d. Democratic ethos, rights and responsibilities e. Data analysis and public management towards SDG's attainment f. The role of universities and other education establishments g. Public policy and policy-making towards mental health and well-being h. Community government and governance i. Education, employment and prosperity j. Political literacy and autonomy k. Cultural and sports opportunities l. Infrastructure, accessible transport and social services m. Dignified income and social security n. Self-care, mind and body

Methodology (ACCC)

ILEX courses adopt an interactive approach to language teaching and learning. This means that proficiency in grammar usage and awareness of sociopragmatic aspects of language are obtained through meaningful interactions that reflect the accomplishment of functional receptive and productive communication acts. Therefore, lessons should cater for educational experiences that promote the active development of learners' language competences through learning-centered and context-relevant tasks. Likewise, the role of learners' native language in the process of learning other languages is acknowledged as a relevant means through which social and cognitive functions can be enriched, providing a more encouraging environment where language learners can thrive.

Framed within a post-method approach to language learning and teaching, ILEX courses eclectically integrate principles and strategies from multiple methods and approaches such as Communicative Language Teaching (CLT), Task-Based Learning (TBL), CLIL (Content and Language Integrated Learning), PBL (Project/Problem Based Learning), all of them permeated by contemporary multilingual conceptions that regard translanguaging as a likely impactful strategy.

However, as this course is part of the Academic and Content-Based Communicative Competence (ACCC) development stage, it will emphasize the implementation of CLIL and PBL methodologies for the accomplishment of the learning outcomes defined in this syllabus.

Considering contemporary academic and professional contexts, critical digital literacy and technological knowledge/skills are also sought after as part of a comprehensive educational process. Consequently, all ILEX courses are expected to integrate the acquisition of technological and digital competences to the development of language proficiency by means of tools and resources such as Learning Management Systems (LMSs), graphic design platforms (e.g. Canva, Visme, etc.), multimedia editing software, smartphone applications, among others.

Assessment

ILEX courses aim at valid and reliable assessment procedures that are reflective of English language learners' progress in achieving the learning outcomes contemplated in the syllabus. Assessment procedures and instruments should range from formative (providing clear criteria and meaningful feedback) to summative (as in concrete learning evidence that leads to informative scoring). Assessment percentages are divided in two sections as presented below:

40% - Skill Development	20% - SDG Classroom Project	40% - Final Test
--------------------------------	------------------------------------	-------------------------

This percentage can be divided among: Receptive tasks (across different types of media and interaction patterns) Productive tasks (across different types of media and interaction patterns) Quizzes Progress tests Consolidation workshop	Small-scale project related to one or more of the SDGs developed throughout the course Refer to ILEX's suggested PBL guidelines.	This percentage will be divided as follows: - 4-Skill achievement test (Reading - 25%, Listening - 25%, Writing - 25%, Speaking - 25%)

Learners will be informed about how their progress will be assessed in terms of task selection, percentage distribution and grade allocation. Bearing in mind international standards of language proficiency certification, ILEX courses are approved with at least 70% of course completion (3.5/5.0)

Educational and Professional Development

In light of the highly complex academic and professional dynamics, current language teachers are required to embrace a lifelong learning outlook that takes them beyond their conventional classroom practices. This implies that language educators should look forward to becoming familiar with the latest research and trends in their field, concerning various domains, for instance:

- Language teaching approaches/methods
- Classroom management
- Learning psychology
- Technological breakthroughs
- Transdisciplinary teaching
- Curriculum design
- Language Assessment
- Transferable skills: reflection, analysis, creativity, teamwork, problem solving

Teachers and learners can explore the following possibilities

PBL	LMS	Alternative Assessment
Through PBL, learning can be fostered by the design and the socialization or implementation of projects. By structuring learning outcomes around projects students can experience more authentic, inquiry-based interactions in which they can access relevant	Both learners and teachers should make use of platforms that dynamize and systematize several processes/products that derive classroom experiences. It is suggested that courses are supported by Learning Management Systems such as:	Apart from traditional assessment methodologies, nowadays, language teaching and learning can benefit from alternative procedures such as: Self-Assessment Peer-Assessment Portfolios
